

Our policy on amusement and gaming machines

Our new policy for all our tied Publicans is as follows:

Under the terms of your tenancy or lease agreement, you do not have the right to install or operate amusement or gaming machines at your pub.

However, if you would like to consider the opportunities for machines at your pub, you should discuss this with your Punch Development Manager. We can agree a separate contract with you, under which we will supply the machines.

The contract would split the net profit from machines between you and us (we would calculate 'profit' as machine income, minus gaming duty/an admin fee/supplier's fees and legislative costs. We would include any VAT charged).

So to recap, you are not obliged to have a machines contract with us. However, if you choose not to, you will not be allowed to have machines at your pub.

To see a full copy of our machines policy, please ask your Punch Development Manager.
